

Heaven In Heart

In the city Rishikesh, At The Sky Blue Hotel, Manager to their new intern, boys and girl have you understood. They replied, Yes Sir! Good, Let me tell you one more time, said Manager. “Everybody, put in your mind that customer is the boss and you all will always listen to their boss and always try to fulfill their need if not possible then you can directly contact to me”. Everybody now get back to your work and you all will report me at 10:30 pm right here.

At 10 am, Shravya reached at the hotel (The Sky Blue Hotel). In reception, the receptionist welcomes her with the welcome notes and asked what actually Shravya wants either she came to meet anybody or come to book the room. Shravya replied I am here as tourist and I want to book a room for an interval of four days. Receptionist replied, Sure ma’am, we are here to assist you, Ma’am there is only one room left and that’s room no. 402. So, why are you telling me this just give me key otherwise I will lose this last room also, Shravya replied. But ma’am, I will advise you not to take this particular room. But why, I have seen in the Internet this hotel holds the record of best hotel in the state of Uttarakhand. Yes ma’am, you are absolutely right but in this room last year a girl had taken her life by hanging and from that day nobody took that room. Shravya replied, I don’t believe in all these and by the way there is no room left in any other hotel, so just clean up the room and give me the key. With a sarcastic smile receptionist replied, Sure ma'am, I will send the room service to the room no. 402 by that time you can check out our restaurant.

When Shravya reached at room no. 402 she seems to be everything fine. By bathing, she freshen up and spend some time in the balcony while standing there she was thinking that what rubbish the receptionist was telling this room is such a wonderful with a beautiful view of the city, Rishikesh. After some time, she felt tired and gone to sleep at 11 am.

When she open her eyes she saw that it was 4 pm, by waking she had booked a table in the restaurant and taken her post lunch peacefully. After that she decided to visit Triveni Ghat and Lakshman Jhula Bridge in Day 1. When she reached at the reception she saw there is another receptionist she think may be her shift was over. She asked the receptionist for a cab so that she can visit the Ghat and the Bridge as she can't go with her Bullet because vehicle condition was terrible. Yes ma'am, cab is ready at the parking lot. Here, at the register just write the names of places where you want to visit and ma'am we also provide a guide from our hotel. Do you want anybody or you will visit yourself. No, actually if guide is available then it's great I will get to know more about the places where I am visiting or going to visit. Receptionist called the guide and they proceed to the parking lot. By that time, Shravya introduces herself to the guide and in return the guide introduces himself, “Hi, I am Ekansh from Dehradun, a data analyst and I work for a company named YPS Tech also known as YPST”. She replied, Oh I see, you live in Dehradun and you are a data analyst then what are you doing here at Rishikesh as a guide? Actually, I like to travel and discover new places. So from last year when the summer holiday happened I came here to work as a guide by doing so I discover had many places in the interval of 20 to 25 days last year, expecting same also this year, Ekansh replied. Oh wow that’s great, and how you get know to about the places you are going to visit? Internet Shravya, Internet is the greatest source of any type of knowledge so by Internet I get to know more about Uttarakhand and its cities. She replied, this is something new and adventures and by doing so you are visiting various places and also getting paid smart work huh. He smiled.

By that time, they reached Triveni Ghat which was famous for its Ganga Aarti, at almost 6 pm and they participated in the evening Aarti. After the Aarti they started roaming here and there around the Ghat and experiencing different world from as usual. After some time they proceeded further towards Lakshman Jhula Bridge, it was built exactly where Lakshman, brother of Lord Rama, crossed the river on jute ropes. When she reached there she get emotional by experiencing the love of two enormous brothers. Then she reached hotel at 10 pm and had special dinner because it was the day when forty years back this hotel was inaugurated and there was huge party for celebrating that moments.

After taking dinner she get back to her room and called her mom to ask whether she is fine or not. Shravya said, "Hi mom, how are you and how is Duke doing, is he fine? Yes my dear, I am absolutely fine and yeah Duke is also doing good if his leg doesn't cut with knife that day then he should be with you now, replied her mom. Alright leave it, how are you and how was your day? I am very happy by reaching my dream destination and it was best day of this decade, she replied to her mom. That's great, now go to sleep you must be feeling sleepy we will talk later, her mom said her.

She was sleeping peacefully but at midnight around 12'O clock suddenly heard various voice when she try to understand what actually the voice is saying. She came to the conclusion that voice is saying "Why I died so soon, I was just Sixty nine years old, another voice were interrupting I was just about marry my love but unfortunately I died because of car accident, One more voice was saying you guys are still talking about the life in which you are died now, I am happy that I died". By listening this Shravya got very scared and started taking the name of God Shiv! Shiv! Shiv! and after few minutes somehow she sleep and directly wake up in the next morning.

When she remembered what happen with her last night she got little scared even in the morning after that by taking bath she freshen up and packed her bag for visiting new places by forgetting all this. While travelling she shared this with Ekansh and he understood everything when she asked the reason for all this. Ekansh replied, it is said that before the construction of this hotel I mean more 45 years ago, there was a graveyard that why you were hearing the conversion of dead people. In this Shravya replied, then how it's possible only dead people talk on room no. 402 and not in the entire hotel? Actually, it was said not entire part of the hotel come under the part of graveyard only the room no. 402 and the whole parking lot comes under the part of graveyard, Ekansh replied . Although, I don't believe in this theory but it was the case Oh My God, said Shravya. Then they visited new exciting places and enjoyed a lot.

The next day, at the reception when Shravya was about to check out to explore another city of Uttarakhand, Manager was also present with the receptionist when he came to know that Shravya was about check out to visit another city of Uttarakhand he offer Shravya that in each and every city of Uttarakhand the branch of The Sky Blue Hotel is present so you don't have to check out from here. I am just giving you a token which you can show in any branch of this hotel and you can live there peacefully without any restriction and you can pay all the amount at the last branch wherever you stay and Ekansh will there with you for your convenience. Shravya accepted the offer and she visited 5 cities of Uttarakhand in the interval of 20 days, 4 days each. Like in the city Nainital, she explore the places Nainital Lake, Tiffin Top, Cave Garden, Hanuman Garhi etc. in the city Haridwar, she visited Rajaji National park, Crystal World, Chilla Range etc. in the city Roorke, Kaliyar Sharif Dargah, Solani Park etc. in the city Mussoorie, she visited places like Lal Tibba Scenic Point, Gun Hill Point, Mossy Falls etc. Now, she was finally going to visit her dream place in the Earth which she considered as a Heaven in the Earth also she was a true devotee of Lord Shiva. When she reached Kedarnath Temple she feels like she has seen Heaven with her naked eye. She started thinking this is how natural and a real world look like Kedarnath surrounded by beautiful river known as Mandakini River and in the side surrounded by scenery of Himalayas then she took the blessing of Lord Shiva and she visited all the places where she planned to visit within a span of 4 days, the places like Chorabari Tal, and Mayali Pass etc.

Now she was very happy with this trip in between this Ekansh said to Shravya that he actually lived in Kedarnath for the sake of work he had shifted to Dehradun. He urges Shravya to meet with his family. Shravya was excited too to meet with his family. When she reached his home everybody welcome them very lovingly Ekansh introduces Shravya to his family and in few hours they created bonding like they know Shravya from her childhood, It was almost 8:30 pm, a dinner time in places like Kedarnath. So, all of them sat together to take dinner. While taking dinner Shravya suddenly saw a photo frame which was on the wall and she actually shocked to see that photograph, in the photograph there was a picture of her mother with Ekansh's mother. She without wasting a second asked Ekansh's mother about the photograph. Ekansh's mother said to her that in the photograph, I am with my beloved best friend, Faalguni. Shravya shockingly said, Oh My God are you Avantika Aunt. Ekansh suddenly said how you know my mom's name. Shravya replied look at the photograph, I'm the daughter of that women Faalguni. Then Ekansh's mother said, Oh My God you are daughter of Faalguni, How is your mother and had she forgotten me her beloved best friend Avantika. Shravya replied, no, never she always talk to me and shared a stories of yours and mamma that how you both enjoyed collage life together by facing ups and down and how you both stayed together in most difficult situation but after your marriage you were separated she told me that suddenly you got vanished one day. She tried to find you but at the end hadn't get anything. Ekansh's mother said with warming voice Daughter Shravya call your mom now I want to talk her badly. Then, Ekansh's mother and Shravya's mother had talked more than 2 hours.

The next morning, Shravya was about to leave Ekansh's house and the state Uttarakhand. Ekansh's family had promised Shravya that in the next summer vacation they will come to visit Kolkata and her home.
